

- For the first time a similar thought was expressed by Konstantin Tsiolkovsky in 1895, detailed design idea has been in the works Yuri Artsutanova. In 2006, the space elevator was reborn. Paul created the project Burkov elevator particular difficulty was the question of the strength and lightness of the cable. He also suggested the use of flat ribbon entwined into one bigger. Thus, the cable will be much stronger in its title.