

To learn languages

Native speakers, alive, real speech everywhere—in shops, buses, stations and streets is a helpful way to improve one's language and conversation skills

