

B. Types of views used on drawings

Technicians are discussing different views shown on drawings (looking at components from above, from the side, etc.), as they search for the information they require.

- We need a view from above showing -the general arrangement of all of -the roof panels - a plan of -the whole area.
- According "to this list, -there are of all elevation four sides of -the machine on drawing 28. So one of Those should show the front of the machine.
