

Too many companies fail to renew themselves, and slowly die. Follow these seven principles to ensure the future of your venture:

Start at the top and encourage your team to take risks