

We face challenges in pollution

- Waste products and artificial chemicals used in farms, industries, and households

Each year, millions of people die from pollution