

The company just released its new autonomous driving platform, Drive PX, which can decipher between a delivery truck and an ambulance.