

THE RED AND THE BLACK

by Stendal

The chronicles of a provincial young man attempts to rise socially beyond his modest upbringing through a combination of talent, hard work, deception, and hypocrisy.