

9. Be realistic about the price

- Know what other comparable homes in the area have sold for (not just their listing prices)
- Remember, it doesn't matter what you think your home is worth
- If your home has been on the market for over 3 months without any offers, chances are it's priced too high, or something else is turning buyers off

