

1. Don't Make It "Taste-Specific"

- That fluorescent green paint in the living room may look good to you, but is likely an eyesore to prospective buyers
- Unless you plan to keep your house forever, any improvements or renovations should be pretty "standard" work
- Unusual colors, features, or finishes can be a big turn-off to buyers

www.juliaodom.com

