Evaluating

Evaluating involves presenting and defending opinions by making judgments about information, the validity of ideas, or quality of work based on a set of criteria. Its characteristics include:

Judgments in terms of internal evidence

Judgments in terms of external criteria

Example: Which kinds of apples are best for baking a pie, and why?